Mali Morris

april 15th to 18th

Coral in Ochre, 1993
acrylic on canvas
245 x 81.5 cm

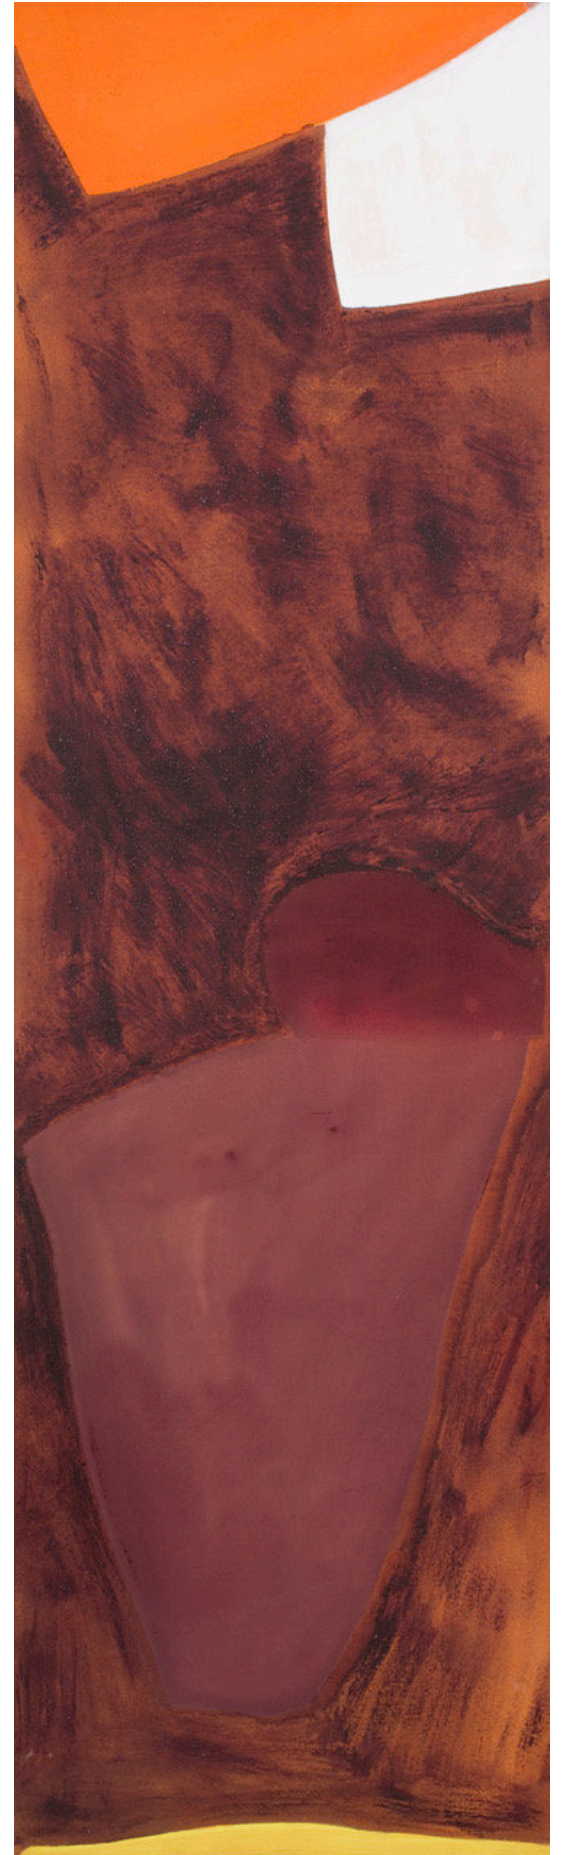

About the artworks

Both these paintings were made in 1993, in a series of many, when I was exploring how the eye moves up and down the tall narrowness of the painting, but also in and out of its colour space, as if in a slow dance. The shapes that intrigued me at the time were ones I could make with the least movement of the brush, yet were still evocative of forms in the world – bell, skirt, petal, and so on.

They have been in a storeroom for 28 years – this seemed a good opportunity to get them out and have another look.

About the artist

Mali Morris is one of the founder members of APT. She has shown nationally and internationally since the late 1970s and is represented in many public and private collections. In 2010 she was elected to the Royal Academy of Arts.
